"Well, the Ad Club did it!"
It was bound to happen! and when the campaign was over last evening there was exactly $30,000 subscribed to the stock of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Limited, in Honolulu alone and other counties to hear from, besides a number of large corporations which could not subscribe until action has been taken by the board of directors.

It was a great day, from start to finish, and if anybody was missed it was not the fault of any member of an Ad Club's team. To escape it was necessary to crawl into a hole and pull the hole in afterwards.

It was a thoroughly cosmopolitan campaign; race, color or previous condition of servitude had nothing to do with the case. The Chinese subscribed liberally, for although the Chinese merchants' association turned in $950, many Chinese business men made their subscriptions as individuals to members of team workers.

The Japanese merchants' association team did not start in until the afternoon, but then secured subscriptions to last share.

Late in the afternoon two Koreans came to headquarters. They explained that they had been overlooked and wanted to subscribe. They took twenty shares. Dr. Katsuki also came from his office in the afternoon and subscribed to 100 shares. And thus it went all day long, and everybody smiled and was happy.

Fair of Pirates.

In the center of Bishop Square there was a big marquee tent and near by there was a gigantic target. The Ad Club pirates had possession of a cannon and in the morning, every time three thousand extra shares of stock was subscribed, they fired that cannon at the target and to, and behold, the figure appeared on its face.

Also these figures mounted up in a surprising manner—$3000, $5000, $7000, until at noon there was a salvo of artillery and the target showed $20,000. Later it recorded a bulls-eye of $25,000 and then jumped to $27,000. And there's more to come.

And the women, bless 'em worked like heavers. Mrs. Paul Burns with Miss Penella Miles, the pirates, raided Fort and King streets in fine fashion, from their headquarters in Gunst's cigar store, and many were the victims. Mrs. C. S. Crane and Miss Miriam Stacker also made records. Because a person was a tag shot, the pirates lined them up at the end of the day and giving them three pirate cheers, which were answered by the scout yell. The scouts and their leaders were: Henry Thompson, leader; Nelson Robinson, leader; Rodolph Duncan, leader; Victor Boyd, Robert Boyd, Paul Kong, William Kahanamoku, Charles Coup, Charles Akana, Joseph Akana, Heu Kong, Philip Kane, Vasey-Francis, Albert Kaima, James Holstein.

It was Mrs. Crane who completed the $30,000 total. She got it at seven o'clock last evening from Charles B. Frazier at the Ad Club dinner and it was immediately announced. Mrs. Crane was given a regular Ad Club ovation, and responded in a neat little speech which "brought down the house."

Incidentally, a new "yell" developed at the Ad Club dinner last night. Jack Atkinson was the leader in it and the yell it happened after that would have convinced an outsider that it had been rehearsed for a month.

"Who can it be?"
The Ad Club can!
"Can Make Good!"

But early yesterday the Ad Club pirates showed up in all their war-paint, and then came a gun squad in command of E. W. P. St. George, and if there ever was a fiercer looking bunch of harmless pirates in this wide world than St. George, D. B. Johnston, C. F. Jewell, Jack Cleary, W. H. Trenek, H. T. Perry, John Grabe, John W. Perry, the drummer boy, Charlie Norton, George Pereira, James Blaisdell and Speed King Lester Fisher, it is not recorded in history.

Attack Made on Grill.

At the Ad Club luncheon at noon in the Young Building yesterday it was reported that the Union Grill had failed to make a subscription. Such a yell went up it would have been heard in heat. The services of the Royal Hawaiian band were immediately secured with every man looking as dangerous as possible, and leading the pirates with their muskets, which was loaded to the muzzle, they marched to the grill and threatened to bombard the place. Captain Berger played the new Pinkham March and then John Deter surrendered and subscribed to $10 worth of stock, which the pirates proceeded to put in the bank as quickly as possible.

The Boy Scouts also took an active part in the campaign and were of great assistance, the pirates lining them up at the end of the day and giving them three pirate cheers, which were answered by the scout yell. The scouts and their leaders were: Henry Thompson, leader; Nelson Robinson, leader; Rodolph Duncan, leader; Victor Boyd, Robert Boyd, Paul Kong, William Kahanamoku, Charles Coup, Charles Akana, Joseph Akana, Heu Kong, Philip Kane, Vasey-Francis, Albert Kaima, James Holstein.

A. L. C. Atkinson, chairman of the Ad Club carnival finance committee, was in charge of headquarters, assisted by Harry L. Strange, and Tom Sharp. Allan Lowery was the treasurer and had to give receipts for all the cash turned in by the leaders of the teams. When night came he had writer's cramp.

While exactly $30,000 worth of stock was subscribed yesterday here, the cash subscriptions amounted to $5089.60. The puzzle is, who subscribed to six-tenths of one share of stock?

Cash Pours In.

The pirates made five trips to the bank during the day, each time depositing real money, as follows: First trip, $150; second trip, $500; third trip, $1050; fourth trip, $480.50; fifth trip, $778.50—a total of $3379 deposited for the day.

But long after banking hours the cash kept coming in, and it is expected that when the plantations are heard from the fund will be swelled to much larger proportions, the only plantation larger from yesterday being Ewa, which subscribed to twenty shares.

Word has not been received from Hilo, or from Maui or Kauai, as yet regarding the progress of the campaign in those sections of the Territory, but it is believed that they will bring the total of the stock subscribed for well over the $40,000 mark. Reports will be received from the other Islands on Tuesday.

At the Ad Club dinner last evening jubilation broke loose. President Farrington was submerged for once, but made himself obvious long enough to call upon C. A. Cottrell, who presented a resolution dealing with the campaign and which was passed with a yell of triumph. It is as follows:

"Whereas, the Ad Club accepted the invitation of the carnival committee to assist in financing the coming Mid-Pacific Carnival by spending one day in the sale of stock in the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Limited; and

"Whereas, the sales committee of the Ad Club was unable to reach all who were willing to subscribe for stock in said corporation, although in the one day as many persons as possible were reached and 30,000 shares of stock were subscribed; now therefore,

"Be it resolved, That we respectfully urge all who were not solicited by the Ad Club committee to notify the carnival committee of their willingness to subscribe for stock, so that a representative of the said carnival committee may call on them; and

"Be it further resolved, That we extend our sincere thanks to all who so willingly subscribed for stock when solicited by the several committees of our club, and that at the time certificates of stock are mailed to subscribers there shall be mailed a card of thanks expressing the appreciation of the Ad Club and such subscriber's civic pride as shown by his subscription."

The resolution was signed by Charles A. Cottrell, Raymond C. Brown and J. Morton Riggs.

Curtis' Team Leads.

The three honor teams yesterday were announced by Mr. Strange as those led by George B. Curtis, $4097; Charles B. Frazier, $3400; El. Towse, $1880. Many of the teams, however, secured the promise of subscriptions, which were not paid at the time and therefore not counted, but will be paid in today and until Saturday to the carnival committee.

At five o'clock this afternoon the Ad Club committee will call "pau," and turn over its books, cash and accounts to the Mid-Pacific Carnival committee, with a record of work well done and the high-water mark by the carnival committee nearly doubled.

"And there is no question about it that the Ad Club did it—with the assistance of every other good citizen in Honolulu who could be seen."

FORTLAND, December 27.—Portland is to have a municipal marriage bureau, where gallant swains and blushing maidens will be united and the fees accruing from the performance of the marriage ceremony will be turned over to the city for the benefit of the municipal park.

Municipal Judge John H. Stevenson made this announcement today and the bureau will be opened for business on Monday. One couple already has demanded the honor of the first marriage, and with Judge Stevenson in full charge the ceremony will be performed next week.

By the creation of this court auxiliary, Judge Stevenson hopes to increase the size of the fund which can be put to such good use. Many men are arrested for no other crime than that of being poor, and if turned out in the world after a night in jail their status is not bettered. Probation Officer Lee keeps more than sixty men on his books, although the municipal parole system has been in vogue only since October. Many of these men are good workers and if given a small sum for food and lodging, they will find employment.

Many cases in which men and women are charged with moral delinquency come before the municipal judge, and such cases are usually satisfactorily settled when the couple get married. Such marriages will be performed by Judge Stevenson in the future.

Others who desire to enter into the bonds of matrimony will find the judge very happy to have the opportunity to perform the ceremony, and the fees, if any, will go toward benefiting starving men.

Gasoline Vapor Starts Blaze Resulting in Panic and Causing $500 Damage.

(From Thursday Advertiser.)

A fire in the Young Hotel laundry at nine o'clock yesterday morning resulted in four persons being injured and damage being done to the extent of $500.

The fire was caused by gasoline vapor from some clothes which were being cleaned becoming ignited from a spark from a fan motor which is used in drying out the clothes. The sudden blaze caused a panic among the fifty-five workers who are employed in the laundry, and two persons were injured in trying to escape from the building and two badly injured.

Shandry Mota, a Portuguese girl, has a badly sprained ankle, caused by jumping out of a side window to the adjoining lot, and K. Adachi, a Japanese, jumped down an elevator shaft, a distance of twelve feet, and besides being badly shaken up suffered several severe burns. J. Kelly, a mechanic, was burned about the head, hands and chest, and Ah Hop, a laundry employee, was severely burned about the body and head and is in the Queen's Hospital.

The fire first started from the gasoline vapor from some clothes that were being cleaned. Prompt action on the part of several of the employees got this blaze under control when a bucket of gasoline was accidentally upset and caught fire. The sudden blaze threw the laundry workers into a panic and several attempted to escape by the windows. Adachi's clothing caught fire and he became excited and jumped down the elevator shaft. It was thought at first that he had received internal injuries but upon examination at the hospital it was found that aside from some severe burns the man was not seriously injured.

The fire was quickly extinguished by the fire department assisted by employees of the hotel. A line of hose was run from the Hawaiian News Company's store and aided materially in extinguishing the blaze.

The Young Hotel laundry is in a small building in the rear of the hotel and is in no way connected with the main hotel building.

"Picturesque Kauai" is the subject of the "Evening of Pictures" by Photographer B. J. Baker at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. Mr. Baker will show one of the most beautifully colored and extensive sets of stereoscopic views that has been made of island subjects. As a result of much travel on Kauai, he has hundreds of pictures of the scenery of the Garden Island.

The program this evening will consist of 250 lantern pictures made from these photographs, and Mr. Baker will tell of the circumstances under which each was taken and give the stories connected with many of them.

Not a few of these pictures will be the originals of the arts which have appeared in Honolulu publications during the last few months. The Thursday night lectures are held in Cooke Hall at eight o'clock, and are free to members of the association and their invited friends.

A GERM DESTROYER.

There is no danger whatever from lock jaw or blood poison resulting from a wound when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is promptly applied. It is an antiseptic and destroys the germs which cause these diseases. It also causes wounds to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all dealers. H. K. Smith & Co., agents.

$26,000. AMATEUR CLUB.
The Hawaiian Amateur athletic federation is talking of erecting a $25,000 municipal clubhouse.

NO RENEWAL OF SUGAR LEASES

So He Tells Coast Interviewer—Rigid Economy to Be Put Into Practice, Also, to Make Ends Meet, and Some Territorial Offices May Have to Be Abolished.

"There are tracts of land now in the hands of the large sugar interests, held under leases. These leases will not be renewed as they expire."

This is a direct statement of land policy credited to Governor Pinkham in an interview with him in the San Francisco Chronicle of Dec. 19, which has not been contradicted or modified by the Governor, so far as is known, and which is causing some degree of uneasiness among some of the lease holders of the Territory. The Governor has never said anything on the land question so bald since his arrival in Honolulu, but on the other hand, he has not intimated that he is not prepared to stand by his published words uttered on the Coast.

In his first "Statement to the Press," prepared by him in San Francisco and handed to The Advertiser on the evening of his arrival in Hawaii, the Governor touches on the land question, but lightly, saying:

Your Governor believes the public lands in the control, or to come under the control of the Territory, should, in suitable areas, be first offered for homesteading to citizens, or those lawfully eligible, now within the Territory or arriving unassisted, and who intend to fully utilize the land, alone or in cooperation with others, for their own and the public benefit.

It is reported that within the Territory only 50,000 acres of land are under cultivation, of which 213,000 acres are in sugar cane.

Evidently, while we hope for much greater development the Territory has not an arable acre which public welfare can permit to lie idle or be held for speculation. Your Governor will bear this in mind.

More Explicit.

He was much more explicit on the Coast, both in this respect and in some others. His interview in the Chronicle shed, in part:

"With the depression in the Hawaiian sugar industry, and with the decrease in the value of the taxable increment from sugar, some methods must be devised to replace the resulting loss in revenue, or to meet the coming situation in some other way."

"I think the government will have to be carried on much more economically than heretofore, because we have been abnormally prosperous in all Hawaii for several years, which has induced liberal public expenditures."

Some Offices May Go.

"Governor Pinkham declined to go into details of the forms his program of introducing economies in the administration of the territorial government would take. He pointed out that the salaries of the officers were fixed by law, but admitted that some of the offices may have reached such a low degree of usefulness as to suggest their abolishment. He also indicated that the appropriations of the annual budget would be carefully scrutinized with a view to reducing expenses. While many changes would be made in the existing personnel of the government, they would be made gradually, he said."

"It cannot be denied that there is considerable apprehension in the islands in regard to the effect of the new tariff," he continued, "but over-production in sugar may cause the depression, rather than any administration policy. There is an overproduction now, and any decline of prices in Hawaii should not be regarded as due to a tariff which will not become effective until 1915."

"Governor Pinkham also indicated that he would tackle the public land question at an early date."

To Regulate Land Laws.

"The most important change in the Hawaiian policy so far as I am concerned will be a more liberal construction of the land laws with reference to homesteaders," he said. "There are considerable tracts of land in the islands which could be thrown open to homesteaders, and are suitable for development. It is in the construction of the laws pertaining to them for the benefit of the small holder that we expect to be more liberal."

"There are also tracts of land now in the hands of the large sugar interests, held under leases. These leases will not be renewed as they expire."

A victim to the dread white plague, tuberculosis, Manuel Nobrega Le died on Tuesday at the Leahi Home, Kaimuki. He is survived by his wife, and two small children. He was a member of the Santo Antonio Society, his family being entitled, through his death, to receive $1700 as mortuary benefits.

Deceased came to Hawaii six years ago from the Island of Madeira, where he was born thirty-five years ago. He went to Kapa, Kauai, where he worked for five years and where the dread malady first laid its clutch on him. From Kapa, Le came to Honolulu and was sent to the Leahi Home where he was for about a year under treatment, but the ravages of the disease had too fast a hold on him to allow of his recovery.

The widow has asked The Advertiser to thank in her name and that of her little children, Superintendent Dr. A. N. Sinclair, Assistant Superintendent Henry A. Taylor, Matron Mrs. H. A. Taylor and others at the Leahi Home for the care they gave Le at that institution.
